FARROWING

SMOOTH BIRTH

OF VITAL,

HEAVIER PIGLETS

SMOOTH BIRTH AND GOOD START OF LACTATION

More vital piglets take up colostrum sooner and better.

As a result of genetic selection, sows produce more, but on average smaller, piglets. The piglets require special attention and care to survive. It also takes longer for these animals to reach their optimum finishing weight.

By focusing on piglet vitality before birth many problems can be avoided. Lianol vital makes this possible. It boosts the sow's IGF-1* levels during the often difficult period around farrowing. This has a direct impact on the exchange of nutrients between sow and piglet via the placenta. The improved energy supply to the piglets in the womb boosts piglet vitality. The smallest piglets, in particular, benefit most from this.

In addition to more vital piglets, Lianol vital ensures a smooth farrowing process and a good start of lactation. This, too, is beneficial to the growth and health of the piglets.

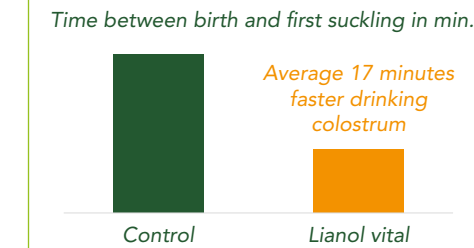

Lianol vital around farrowing ensures:

- a smooth farrowing process
- more vital piglets that start suckling sooner
- a better start of lactation
- heavier piglets and uniform litters

* IGF-1 is Insulin-like Growth Factor 1, a growth stimulator naturally produced by the body.
